Fishing

Potential Huckleberry Finns and Izzac Waltons crop out with these long lazy summer days designed for a fisherman's life. Whether you dig your toes in a canal bank or practice the art of fishing in a more fashionable manner on the east or west coasts, you are an angler.

Fishing has offered American fiction some of its most charming stories. If fishermen rig themselves with cut bait, plugs, shrimp or worms, they all start off with the prayer that guiding powers permit them to catch something big enough to enable them to speak the truth on their return.

Actually it doesn't matter whether they do or don't. Fishermen have proved that fiction is stranger than truth—much stranger.

For instance there is the story of a local angler as told in front of the drug store, and we take the privilege of printing it. The story promises to be the biggest of the season. If, by chance, there is one which supercedes or equals it, we invite the originator to send it in.

The story is strange because the fisherman caught his fish without the aid of bait, in fact, he wasn't even fishing. He merely reached into the water and dragged out a twenty pound snook with his hands. For confirmation, denial, or additional information, Charlie Fontaine is the man to see.

To other anglers, we say courage, you can surmount this one. Remember the words of Lord Byron, "After all, what is a lie? 'Tis but the truth in masquerade." The sport was made for those of sense and imagination, for Walton, king of anglers, said fishing is "an art worthy the practice of a wise man."

Almost everybody has a good word for the immensely popular Pontiac. The most enthusiastic spokesmen are those who own this great car. The facts behind this admiration of Pontiac are very simple— Pontiac is America's lowest-priced Straight Eight. Pontiac is the lowest-priced car with GM Hydra-Matic Drive. Pontiac is the most beautiful thing on wheels. And Pontiac is famed everywhere for its dependability and economy. Those are the facts, and they are impressive. But they are a lot more impressive to the person behind the wheel of a Pontiac. He knows for sure that dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac!

Wallace B. Hicks, of Jacksonville, has been elected to succeed J. Albert Woods as president of the Wilson and Toomer Fertilizer Company, one of Florida's oldest and largest firms.

rectors also reported that Woods, who on July 1 will assume his new duties as president of the Commercial Solvents Corporation, New York, will continue to serve as a director of the fertilizer company.

Hicks, whose election automatically makes him head of the Florida Agricultural Supply Company, a division of Wilson and Toomer which manufactures insecticides, has been a vice president of the company since 1946.

A native of Villa Rica, Carroll County, Georgia, Hicks has virtually made a lifetime career in the industry, starting as a control clerk with a nationally known fertilizer company in Atlanta and becoming superintendent of that company's Atlanta plants. He served fifteen years with this company.

In 1939 he became affiliated with the Smith-Douglas Company, Inc., at Norfolk, Va., to head production and was made general superintendent. He joined Wilson and Toomer in 1942 as general superintendent of manufacturing operations.

Woods, who served in the Marine Corps in the First World War and later served as vice president and director of the American Fertilizer Works, president of the Chilean Nitrate Sales Corporation and vice president of W. R. Grace and Company, New York, was elected president of Wilson and Toomer in 1947. As head of Commercial Solvents Corporation he will direct the activities of one of the nation's largest manufacturers of pharmaceuticals and agricultural and industrial chemicals.

A subsidiary company, Southern States Bag Company, manufactures a complete line of burlap and cotton bags. The main plant and general offices of Wilson and Toomer are located on Talleyrand Avenue in Jacksonville. The company also owns and operates as divisions, The Peninsular Fertilizer Works at Tampa and the Cartledge Fertilizer Company at Centonada.

3,934 College Graduates Seek Summer Employment

Information on the 3,934 college graduates who will be seeking employment this summer is being sent to over 4,000 Florida employers by the Florida State Employment Service. The Employment Service is soliciting openings for graduates and is obtaining suitable information from the students through the College Placement offices in the various universities in an effort to keep Florida trained persons in Florida.

Special information about the graduates, the field in which they have obtained degrees, their special training and other data are being sent to the employers. This gives the employers a chance to select the best qualified and trained persons for their job openings.

There are 94 different subjects in which these graduates will obtain degrees. Typical of the divisions are those in law, agriculture, business administration, engineering, science, education, music and many others. Twenty-nine areas have persons graduating with master's degrees.

Many of these graduating persons are veterans who have had training in the armed services in addition to college studies. Women compose 821 of the graduates, most of these falling in the teaching and home economics categories.

Examples of the type data included in the information is one for an accounting graduate. He is 24, a veteran, and married. The College he attended is included as well as his grade averages in his major and related subjects. His experience and extra curricular activities are briefly included. Finally, the date he will be available is listed.

Specific information is included on the list for 93 graduates. These qualifications summaries are divided into several different fields: business, including accounting, advertising, commerce, industrial management, etc.; engineering and science, including construction, engineering, biology and chemistry, education and social work, including teaching, music, physical education, religious and social work; and other fields of work such as art work, clinical psychology, legal work, nursing and statistics.

Ten Florida colleges are represented by the applicants listed by the Employment Service. The list includes University of Florida, Florida State University, University of Miami, University of Tampa, Rollins College, John B. Stetson University, Florida Southern College, Florida A & M College, Bethune-Cookman College and Florida Normal and Industrial College.

4-H Clubs Lauded For Their Tractor Program

Keeping the nation's fleet of 3 one-half million farm tractors operating efficiently is a job of basic importance to the whole economy. Aiding in this task today is the 4-H tractor maintenance program through which nearly 130,000 club members have been trained to know their tractors, care for them well, and operate them efficiently.

So said Guy L. Noble, director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club work, in an interview.

The club leaders receive special training in tractor care and operation at annual State or district clinics, which are conducted by the Extension Service of the State Agricultural Colleges and USDA, cooperating. Noble asserted. "The leaders pass on what they learn to club members, who carry out the training on the home tractors. Through this process of training, club members not only learn the value of efficient tractor operation, but also develop the qualities of leadership, helpfulness, initiative and thrift."

As incentives for outstanding records of achievement in this program, merit medals, Chicago 4-H Club Congress trips and college scholarships are offered by American Oil Company on county, state and national levels, respectively.

Last year's state winner in Florida was Clyde Singletary of Milton. Seven club members in Florida received county medals of honor.

FHA IS AN INSURANCE

(Continued from Page 1) Fund has been in existence since 1935. It is a war baby created to insure mortgages on war and post-war "emergency" housing.

This is the fund which has met criticism. Under the "emergency" program the FHA has written $2,189,950,000 insurance on mortgages of 5,287 apartment projects containing 301,759 dwelling units.

As of January 31 it has received back 26 of these projects containing 1,960 dwelling units. It had re-sold two projects, and had issued $6,390,783 debentures—promises to pay disappointed investors.

The FHA also has written $2,499,482,000 mortgage insurance on 420,252 homes built under "emergency" conditions. It had received back 10 projects, and had resold 6,215, and had 585 left to sell.

It had issued $3,464,179 debentures.

The book now has been closed on the "emergency" program. No more insurance is being written under it. The War Housing Insurance Fund will have to stand or fall on the assets and income it has now. Under the "standard" program the FHA has $4,544,946,000 insurance outstanding on 903,969 homes. It has had just 4,114 properties come back on its hands under this program, of which it had but 25 left unsold. January 31. Outstanding debenture liability amounted to $7,666,000.

When an investor forecloses a mortgage, gives the property to the FHA and demands his money, what he gets is a bond, or promise to pay over a period of 10 years or longer. To pay this bond, which it calls a debenture, the FHA has three resources.

It has a premium income. As of January 31, premium income had piled up $70,000,000 reserves in the War Housing Insurance Fund, and $138,000,000 reserves in the Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund. It has the property to sell or operate.

It has the backing of the United States Treasury. So far the first two resources have been sufficient.

SCOUT TROOP 88

(Continued from Page 1) material responsibilities ever since. In other words, the Troop is living up to one of the cherished ideals of Scouting: self-support. With some organizations, self support is an ideal more than a fact.

As in the case with other Scout troops, 88 receives an official charter each year. Boys who become members at a time get their dues automatically paid from the Troop fund. The fees for their monthly Scouting magazine, Boy Life, are also paid in this manner.

The Troop Committee, a group of men who serve the boys in an advisory capacity, is as follows: Roscoe Braddock, Eugene Pennington, Rev. Griffin, George Hudspeth and Walter Mosely. Committee meetings are held only when a special need is determined.

Troop meetings originally were held on Monday nights every week. This conflicted with band practice and other activities held on that date, so the meetings were moved up to Tuesday night at 7:30, the present meeting time.

Tom Lloyd is present Scoutmaster of Troop 88, succeeding Eugene Pennington April 1 of this year. Lloyd, youngest of the Scoutmasters, is employed by the Schenck Broadcasting Company as an announcer.

Troop 88 has a membership drive in full swing, according to Lloyd. Prizes will be awarded to the boys bringing in the most new members before the Troop goes to Camp Osborne June 11. The camp is named for the big lake near which it is situated on the East Coast.

There are twelve members in the Troop now and they are grouped into three patrols, the most subordinate unit in Scouting. Patrol Leaders are Lee Braddock, Colvar, Paul Davidson, Flying Eagles; Billy Elder, Rattlesnakes.

Another contest, which was run for a period and abandoned, was the attendance drive,

After receiving from the First Baptist a donation of $50 as a starter, the boys have taken sole charge of financial and Prize winners in that drive were Peter Seale and Billy Elder, who won a hatchet and a sheath.

Other Scoutmaster or Assistant leaders have been Donald Weeks, Nash Lloyd, Jack Murray and

C. E. Sieler.

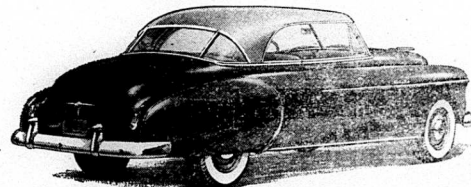

The boys have earned money selling peanuts at football games. Among their projects have been a display in the locker bank window, and service teams in churches (ushers, janitors).

Scoutmaster Lloyd urges more boys to join the Troop, and they couldn't join at a better time than now, when the Troop is preparing for Camp Osborne.

FAMILY TREAT. They'll all have fun in this roomy 4-door Sedan with generous luggage space for trips. Shown here in the SPECIAL. Some body type available also in the SUPER series.

Look at the FUN you're missing!

SURE we know—a car is a "necessity" these days. A modern family "couldn't" get along without one." Or so you tell yourself.

Come, come, sir! We know, and so do you, the real reason you got the new-car fever—and the kind of car you are hankering for.

You want a car with some fun in it, don't you? A car you'll get a big bang out of every time you see it parked in front of your house—every time you slip into its front seat—every sweet and easy mile you travel in it.

Well, come see what this beauty does for you.

How the doors swing open in warm welcome at a thumb touch on a button. How the broad seats invite you to take it easy. How the big, straight-eight under the bonnet snaps into purring life at your toe-touch.

And then note—

FOUR-WAY FRONT SEAT This rigid front and (2) sets the style seat, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and gear-shifting easier.

How smoothly you slip away from the curb—especially when Dynaflo™ is handling the power transmission.

How firm and steady the whole car feels. How it holds on curves, free of "heel-over" and sway. How each coil-sprung wheel quicksteers over bumps and rough spots that mean jounce and jiggle on most cars—how buoyantly road-free a Buick is.

Fun? You bet it's fun—too much fun to miss. And there's no reason to miss it, really, for this strapping traveler is priced under many sizes. Starts at figures just an easy step above the so-called Lowest Price cars.

What's keeping you from trying one, when the nearest Buick dealer is ready to demonstrate without obligation any time you want to call on him.

CITY SLUM CLEARANCE

Approximately 25 percent of the rental rooms, including nine buildings which have been completely razed, have been brought up to qualifications since the program began 27 months ago. The condemned rooms were divided almost evenly between white and colored town, Willis says.

Currently 35 rooms are under condemnation proceedings and are in various stages of repair. Approximately 11 flats have been closed recently with repairs on the rooms completed. If the program proceeds according to schedule, 1000 rooms will be repaired in the third year of the program just beginning.

years, the program should be brought to completion with all rental rooms in the city meeting minimum requirements of the State Hotel Commission and the city.

General procedure in discovering dwellings most lacking in necessary sanitary and safety facilities is through periodic checks which Willis carries on with Robert H. Garner, State Hotel Commission deputy for Palm Beach County.

From information contained on the check sheets, dwellings are rated. Under the point system 60-70 indicates unsatisfactory condition; 71-79 point system requiring sanitary facilities for continued occupancy; 80-89 fair with loss of rating due to insufficient sanitary facilities; 90-95 good condition with some work necessary; 96-100 excellent condition unless some serious fire hazard exists.

Action so far has been concentrated on buildings falling in lowest rating brackets requiring sanitary improvements. The next most important consideration is safety qualifications.

The program has been concentrated in scattered sections of town since owners surrounding condemned property usually start improvements on their own. The next step, however, will be to initiate a clean up straight down streets to include any property which might have been missed.

Results of the program are not all tangible and cannot be enumerated. General improvement in community health will have to be proved by the future.

A specific result is the drop in the city's fire insurance rate this last year. For instance in a house in colored town an oil stove blew up and flames enveloped and charred kitchen walls. Previous to the accident, the inspector ordered the owner to install steel roof fire proofing. The action prevented what might have been a major catastrophe.

The diamond is the hardest of all natural substances.

Scouts Urged To Send Reservations For Camp

Mr. W. T. Elder, chairman of camping and Activities and Scoutmaster, Chairman of the South Glades District, received notice today from Clyde Ellis, Gulf Stream Council Scoutmaster, that the office was being flooded with reservations for Summer Camp with only a few days remaining.

Mr. Elder, of the Camping and Activities Committee stated that he was anxious that every boy in every Troop attend Lake Osborne Camp as the program was loaded with instructions in swimming, boating, canoeing, axmanship, rope work, first aid, cooking, nature, survival, and other skills the boys could learn no where else. Mr. Elder has urged that every Troop send in their fees for Camp reservations immediately so their District will be well represented.

Jack Faircloth, president of the Gulf Stream Council just received word from W. A. Dobson that some Scout from the Gulf Stream Council could receive forty days of free training at Plum Branch in New Mexico. One boy from each Council is being selected to receive forty days of training on scout skills and will be expected to teach his fellow scouts the skills of Scouting in Training Courses for Junior Leaders. Every Troop has been asked to nominate a Scout for this position and one boy from the Gulf Stream Council will be selected to attend the Training School near Cimmaron, New Mexico. Mr. Faircloth said.

Speed, Greatest Menace Of State Highway Travel

Florida's greatest highway killer—SPEED—was named by Director H. N. Kirkman today as the target of the Florida Highway Patrol's June program of traffic safety education.

About 600 traffic accidents occur every year in Florida in which at least one person dies," Kirkman said. "More than 200 of these accidents involve a speed violation on someone's part. This staggering cost in human life can be eliminated or reduced only when the motoring public comes to realize that driving too fast for conditions is so hazardous that it makes throwing lighted matches at the bung hole of a powder keg look tame in comparison."

The Florida Highway Patrol estimates that the end of the year will have seen about 35 or 40 thousand Florida drivers involved in traffic accidents of varying severity. About one of every three of these accidents in which someone is killed will entail a speed violation.

"Take it easy when you drive," Kirkman warned. "You might save a minute by speeding, but take a look at your life expectancy as it stands now and then decide if it's worth gambling against that one, lone, minute."

The Florida Highway Patrol listed the following tips for Florida's drivers:

1. Head both legal and common sense speed limits.
2. Slow down for curves, intersections, and any place where vision is obscured. Always be prepared to stop quickly.

3. Maintain control over your car at all times. Do not let yourself be lulled into carelessness.
4. Keep at least one car length behind the car ahead for each 10 miles an hour of speed.
5. Avoid on-a-time stops and remember your responsibility to the driver behind when coming to a stop.
6. Keep the range of your headlights in mind at night. At some speeds it may be impossible for you to stop by the time your headlights warn you of danger.

The Florida Highway Patrol's June program of traffic safety education is being sponsored in cooperation with the National Safety Council. The current emphasis on the dangers of excessive speed is being coordinated in Florida by the Florida Highway Patrol.

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay

The next legislature will probably be called upon to consider amending the law which governs activities of the Florida State Advertising Commission. This subject was discussed at a recent meeting of the Tourist and Development Committee of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce in St. Petersburg.

At the time the commission was set up its activities were restricted to the use of certain types of advertising and it was provided that all money must be spent outside of the State of Florida.

Prior to the establishment of the Commission, Florida had made a name for herself as an exhibitor with sensational exhibits at the World's Fair in Chicago, the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland and the New York World's Fair. These displays, arranged and staged by the master showman Earl Brown of Deland, so far surpassed exhibits of any other state as to place Florida in a class by herself, the recognized and admitted leader in this field.

Results achieved were phenomenal. These outstanding exhibits enabled us to make direct personal contact with millions of people and through visual education, sell Florida as it had never been sold before. Countless thousands of visitors were brought to the state, new industries of every type and character were attracted to Florida, investment dollars poured into the state by the millions, all traceable to these exhibits. Sales of citrus fruit and other Florida products in the areas where these shows were staged sharply increased. New markets were opened up and distribution improved.

Florida was the envy of every state in the union. Her exhibits ranked with those of Ford, General Motors, Firestone and attendance was favorably comparable. So appealing was Florida's presentation that they generated nationwide press and radio publicity worth millions of dollars to the state. Never before nor since has Florida received so much nationwide favorable publicity. The nearest approach has been through the effective work of the genius Dick Pope of Cypress Gardens, who alone has put Florida on the covers of more national magazines and in the rotogravures and news columns of more newspapers and trade journals than any other agency.

The world and the nation have come to recognize Earl W. Brown of Deland and Dick Pope of Cypress Gardens as the men in their particular fields. Whoever you are, wherever you are, if it's an exhibit you want the man to see is Earl Brown and if you want the man in photography, newsreels or television, anyone who knows will tell you to see Dick Pope of Cypress Gardens.

Everglades Vocational High School Graduates Twenty-Two Senior Members

The Commencement Exercises of Everglades Vocational High School were held on Thursday evening, June 8, 1950, at the Assembly Building of the Okeechobee Project when twenty-two seniors marched to the strains of "Mendelssohn's 'March of the Priests'." Jamesena Poole, salutatorian, delivered an opening address, which was very inspiring. The seniors presented, as a part of their Commencement, a vitilized program, a courtroom scene, "Defendant: The Public School." Everyone concerned was challenged by the reflections as a result of statements made by various participants. Various awards were made to outstanding seniors. First-chair band members of different grade levels were awarded gold keys which were donated by Leggett's Music Company and presented by Mr. W. C. Taylor, one of the leading citizens of our community. The valedictorian, Coala Miller, expressed the class' feeling in farewell. The Honorable Howell L. Watkins, Superintendent of Public Instruction, presented the diplomas. Music was furnished by the band and chorus of Everglades Vocational High School.

Baccalaureate ceremony was delivered by the Reverend Edgar T. Graham, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Miami, Florida, whose discourse was partly centered around the senior class motto, "Ever Climbing." He related, "No matter what we set out to do, be good in that particular job or profession." His challenge was to make everyone something on which to think.

P.T.A. Installs New Officers
The P.T.A. of Everglades Vocational High School installed new officers in its last meeting of the school year, which was held Thursday evening, June 8, 1950, at 8:30 p.m. Mrs. A. Z. Morgan, president of the organization, was unanimously re-elected as president for the coming school year. The other officers elected were: Mr. Willie Smith, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Mae Alexander, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. L. Hamilton, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Fann Coleman, Assistant Secretary; Mrs. S. H. Jemmot, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. T. Reddick, Treasurer; Mrs. A. Williams, chaplain; Mrs. Shirley Weaver, financial secretary; and Miss M. O. Keys, reporter. The group engaged in a short business session, after which a report was served by members of the Social Committee. The meeting was then adjourned.

Graduates Entertained At Tea
The Graduating Class and members of the faculty of Everglades Vocational High School enjoyed a tea at the home of Mrs. and Mr. W. C. Taylor on Friday, June 9, 1950, at 4:00 p.m. The affair was highly enjoyed by everyone. The seniors wish to thank the Taylors for taking such a personal interest in them. The seniors also wish to thank Mrs. Shirley Syles, Faculty Members, and the people of the Community who helped to make our school year so successful, as well as possible.

NFA Chapter Member Attends State NFA Convention: Winner Of Several Awards

By William Flakes
My supervised farming program began in September, 1947. I enrolled in Vocational Agriculture at Everglades Vocational High School, southwest of Belle Glade, Florida under Prof. J. J. Holladay, the local advisor.

It was through Prof. Holladay's class demonstrations that I became interested in conducting an individual project. My first year's project consisted of one-half acre of general garden and one-half acre of lettuce. This year my gross sale amounted to $75.00 of which my labor income was $40.00. The gross sale from my string beans was $35.00; from this I received a labor income of $157.00.

My second year in this project made even more increase. My general garden project remained one acre, but I added one-half acre of black eye peas and one-half acre of lettuce. This year my gross sale amounted to $904.25. I began to look forward to increasing my project extensively in the third year. In order to do this I contacted a local farmer who owns a large tract of land in our community of South Bay, Florida, and explained my aim to him. He seemed to be interested in my plans and consented to rent as many acres as I desired for $12.00 per acre. As I was anxiously awaiting this opportunity, we settled on a project extending over 10 acres. In 1949, I again, planted my original two acres in general garden produce. By January in 1950, I had planted 5 acres of the newly rented land in black eye peas and the other 6 acres in lettuce. January, being a very cold month, the black eye peas were killed by the cold, but my lettuce pulled through nicely. By the middle of May I had sold over 600 bushels of lettuce that brought me grossly $1,950.00. The labor income amounted to $900.50.

After having had a great success in my supervised farming program, while attending the 22nd NFA Convention at Florida A. & M. College from May 31st to June 3rd, I was awarded the following:

Winner of the Future Farmers Degree of 1950; Modern Farmers Degree; A trip to the National NFA Convention held at Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, this summer; A trip to the National Judging Contest to be held at Atlanta, Georgia, in the fall.

My supervised farming program will appear in the American Farm Youth Magazine in this year's fall issue. The seniors wish to thank the Taylors for taking such a personal interest in them. The seniors also wish to thank Mrs. Shirley Syles, Faculty Members, and the people of the Community who helped to make our school year so successful, as well as possible.

Bean City News

Never before have I enjoyed working in a community as I have here at Bean City.

Bean City is a small farm community made up of several villages or quarters as they are called and owned by several wealthy gentlemen. Our school building is owned by Mr. Arthur Wells, who has sponsored the interest of his laborers to the extent that he has provided not only adequate housing, but a school, community center. The School Board furnishes a teacher and general upkeep of the building including the janitor, Mr. Man Green, who is doing an excellent job on the grounds.

For the past two years we have indulged in an intensive educational program here. As a result, our students are up to the college standards in our curriculum. Our students from grades 1 through 6 can read well, spell well, have mastery of words and pass tests in language arts, science, social living, mathematics and citizenship. Each child from grade one through six can speak with a legible hand, which of itself speaks well of progress made in two years.

From one graduate we have in two years advanced to nine. We hope to increase each year that our young people will soon be providing the labor force at Vocational High and beyond.

Our parents have worked well these two years. The P.T.A. is flourishing. Mrs. Irene Jones is the active business and Mrs. Elerada Johnson is treasurer. Mrs. Molly Caldwell, secretary. This year they paid the interior of the church.

Next year they plan to add ground equipment which is needed. We have a plan to purchase a projector that our visual education may be furthered.

This year our Junior Red Cross with Robert Bethea leader has done a swell job in humane service. We have been working with a school in Alaska. The principal is a classmate of mine at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. He and his wife are teaching at Huron, Alaska. These interesting letters have helped us in our social living and have brought us closer to our friends in Alaska.

The art groups have done some fine work this year. Here special mention of a freeze on Monday Days by the fifth and sixth grades and a picture of under water life where real long grass plants, and shells in coral reefs with marine life to make a real live setting. You can appreciate this drawing done by Mattie Jean Youngblood, grade six, only by seeing it.

Flower Contest Open To Fla. School Students

One dollar for two weeds? Fifty cents for a dandelion? Four bits for a thistle? Possible, and here is how. Any science student in Florida schools may enter a flower collection in a contest sponsored by the Florida Association of Science Teachers, and the winner will receive $25 for his best collection.

Flowers may be any type, but mental yard flowers may not be entered, and the student must be enrolled through a science teacher who is a member of the Florida Association of Science Teachers. Information may be obtained from local teachers.

Thursday afternoon was Picnic Day for the school and community. Mr. Manual Williams, an expert on barbecue was in charge of the ribs. Enough said. The mothers club had charge of the fish fry and what a fish fry! The food flowed in and after a fine ball game the gong was sounded to eat. This was a great feast. Mother Luther served a churn of ice cream and a cake; some brought cars full all to the glory of Bean City school and community. We had all the food necessary and a barrel of pink lemonade to top the honors. Thanks to you good mothers and mothers for this fine picnic.

Rev. Philip Herout of Miami showed some fine pictures last evening to a packed house in behalf of the P.T.A. He complimented our school highly also our principal Lee who had brought each of his five children, who are now occupying high places in life. The group applauded loudly.

Thanks to all who have cooperated to make this the best year for Bean City School. Our watchword will be "Cooperation and Unity," and our motto: "Not Better; Best."

Mrs. Ora D. Lee, Principal.

Florida A. & M. College, Tallahassee, Florida, I am interested in selecting Agriculture for my major, for I am interested in being able to train future boys in supervised farming.

Everglades Vocational High School graduates Twenty-Two Senior Members

My supervised farming program began in September, 1947. I enrolled in Vocational Agriculture at Everglades Vocational High School, southwest of Belle Glade, Florida under Prof. J. J. Holladay, the local advisor.

Survey Reveals Farmers Practice Safety Today

A recent survey conducted by the Florida Safety Council among the vocational agricultural teachers in which more than 1,000 FFA students participated showed that the farmer today is very careful and is practicing safety.

Practically every county participated in the survey which showed that the tractor is still responsible for the farm deaths, as well as the management of the hands and fingers, due to work on tractors while in operation—farmers must learn that no type of machine which is in operation should be repaired until the motor is stopped.

Do Something About It!
An effective attitude toward any problem is to meet its challenge, refusing to give it room in consciousness in which to develop. But many who would readily take legal steps to obtain human justice accept the unjust conditions of disease, failure, unhappiness, even death, without making any appeal to God's law, which would heal the situation.

How shall one take a positive stand in the face of problems which seem real and distressing? The following is one of many helpful statements found in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Use in the strength of Spirit to resist all that is unlike God. God has made man capable of this, and nothing can vitiate the ability and power divinely bestowed on man," (p. 393). The Bible puts it (James 4:7), "Resist the devil, and he will flee from you."

What did Christ Jesus do when he was faced with the heartbreaking and often dangerous situations encountered during his ministry? He relied on God, divine Truth and Love. He loved more. No one has left out of his loving, not even his enemies. He forgave, and He healed. Thus He kept God's law.

The ultimate in successful resistance to error is to understand man as the Bible declares him to be—the image and likeness of God. The mortal testimony may argue otherwise, sometimes loudly. But its evidence is a lie, and we must not believe the lie. We must believe God, who said (Genesis 1:26), "Let us make man in our image, after our likeness." We need to understand His creation, for that perfect concept, attained, will erase the false picture and leave nothing to sustain or maintain the erroneous evidence.
